

D - DAY

“It all started with a mouse.”

Table of Contents

S*N*i*P*P*E*T...P*C*s. 3-5

C*O*L*O*P*H*O*N...P*C. 5

Snippet

(V.O)

ADALINE

It's only been six months since D-Day. Six months since Walt Disney's cryogenically-frozen head was released from its icy stasis. Six months, yet it's felt like years, seconds, and everything in between. I remember when Disney was a place loved by all. "The Happiest Place on Earth," they called it. But when the stormtroopers flooded the streets, we knew it was no longer Earth anymore.

The world has been taken over by Disney World. A child's greatest dream has become the world's greatest nightmare.

INT - Celebration Florida, 7:00 AM

ADALINE (24) wakes up. She has dirty blonde hair, gray/blue eyes, and freckled skin.

She walks out of the room. There's a line to her bathroom.

ADALINE

Who are you people?

(INT - Cut to her room)

She dresses for the day. She puts on her government mandated Mickey Ears. Something like a tracking device beeps on it.

(INT - Cut to the kitchen)

She eats the bounty breakfast platter. She stabs Mickey Waffle aggressively.

(EXT- Outside house)

Every house on the block looks exactly the same, down to the last detail. There's an identical Mickey fountain on every lawn. As Adaline runs past, one of the heads turn around to watch her.

She runs to Rock-It-Collercoaster.

Snippet (cont.)

FLOOR ATTENDANT

(monotone)

How many in your party?

ADALINE

Just me.

FLOOR ATTENDANT

Lane 3.

ADALINE

(Checks her magic hand with no clock on it) (Muttering)
Oh, (Donald Duck quack) I'm gonna be late.

Storm-troopers round the corner.

ADALINE

(To the floor attendant) Dude.
(Signaling his attention to the storm troopers)

FLOOR ATTENDANT

(Gasps)
(Puts on a forced, strained smile)

Adaline boards the ride (flashing lights and darkness)

(INT - Office) (OFFICE WORKER and Adaline in break room)
(TV playing)
OFFICE WORKER

Hey, turn that up.

(Adaline raises the volume a couple notches)

NEWS REPORTER

I'm Jimmy Jimster, bringing you live apocalypse updates from Channel Four news! S-sorry Channel Eeyore news.
(Off-camera): In today's news, we bring you the uprising in global warning. Johnny Nimbus the weather man, can you give us more information on this topic?

(Cuts to Johnny Nimbus in front of weather graph showing blazing temperatures skyrocketing)

Snippet (cont.)

JOHNNY NIMBUS THE WEATHERMAN

(Smiling) Thanks, Jimmy! Well, considering the global temperature is set to Florida weather, we are looking at a spike of an average 95 degrees worldwide. The fish are long dead, which will have disastrous effects on the natural order. Back to you Jimmy!

OFFICE WORKER

Poor Nemo. Heard he was about to start a family.

ADALINE

Eh..

JIMMY JIMMSTER

Looks like those at home are going to have to start putting on sunscreen! (Laughs) And now we have Dr. Finklestein, local mad scientist, as a guest speaker, who kindly offered to create for us a simulation of what it would be like if these conditions continue.

Colophon

Published by Inklings, written by tortured artist Gabriella Garmendia
and her friend Alessia Carbabie